

SEE YOU THERE

December 2021

International travel can require a little bit extra admin nowadays but thankfully, having a trusted travel advisor with official resources can help you navigate through those changes as they happen. Just the past few weeks I have helped a few clients while on vacation with seamless changes to keep them stress free and appraised. Clients know I am monitoring them from start to finish so they can relax and just enjoy their time away.

Airport hotels...

I had the pleasure of staying at the Fairmont Vancouver Airport hotel and was very impressed from start to finish. Amazing service, beautiful large rooms, excellent food and even live music. Very comfortable and enjoyable.

We've reached the last edition of See You There for 2021!

This month we decided to go on an adventure to a very cold and very exciting part of Canada, Yukon. The hope was to see the famous Aurora Borealis aka the Northern Lights. These can be seen in many countries and places as long as the weather conditions are met and you're north enough. You never know if you will see it for sure, it is up to nature but as you'll see on page 2, we did get lucky.

Beautiful glass chalet with heated flooring, fireplace, electric blinds and insane views from everywhere!

Day time views of the landscape. Nighttime - stars and aurora!

Outdoor enthusiasts playground.

There is so much to see and do. We only just scratched the surface with options like dog sledding, snowmobiling, ice fishing, snowshoeing, animal viewing... One thing that was prominent everywhere in the Yukon area - space! So much freedom and untouched beauty!

Vancouver, British Columbia

Every time I visit Vancouver I fall in love with the city. It has something for everyone! Endless shopping, amazing and diverse food in beautiful settings, a city vibe with modern and historic skyscrapers that is completely walkable and lots of outdoor options from parks to national parks and of course Whistler for skiing to name a few options. It is also a very clean and safe city in general. The hotel scene is great, I chose the Rosewood Hotel Georgia which we loved. Classy, rich history, phenomenal and sincere staff, a food and beverage mecca for guests and locals! Guests booking through me will receive a room upgrade, resort credit and daily breakfast for two not to mention VIP perks along the way.

VIRTUOSO.

THE POWER OF ACCESS®

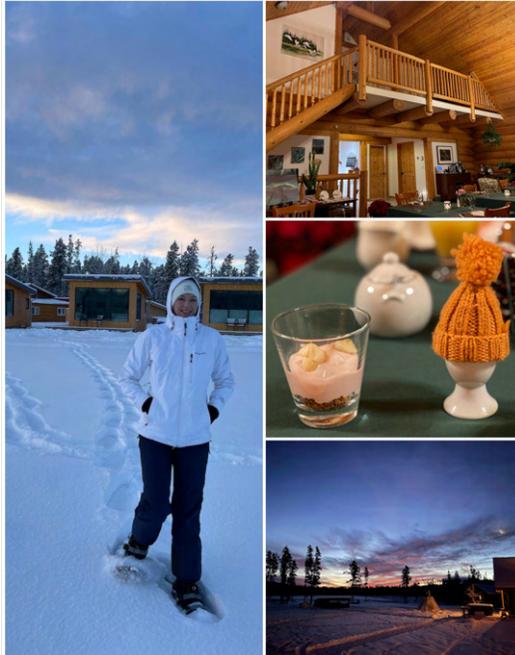

A FROSCH COMPANY

Spotlight on western Canada

When venturing to the great outdoors, go with the best!

Our resort was superb, owned by a wonderful German couple and staff. Renting the right gear is a must for the more than chilly temperatures. As a Californian, I am a wimp! Our gear was waiting in our chalet so we could get going

Only 7 cabins on 145 acres of postcard perfection means you can explore to your hearts content without ever feeling crowded. Meals are served in the main house which also has a spa and sauna. Complimentary snowshoes are available and bikes for summer.

One of my fondest memories from this trip was every night at 10pm when guests would meet at the fire pit to star gaze, view auroras and enjoy warm beverages such as hot chocolate and a delicious home made apple-cider drink with amaretto! A lovely team member would be able to tell you fantastic stories over some S'mores.

We also visited a preserve that assists injured animals and strive to release them back into the wild if possible. Animals top L - R: Red Wolf, Lynx, Goat, Bison, Caribou and Muskox.
