City of Lights Paris, France

With only 72 rooms and suites, Cheval Blanc Paris is a confidential haven where lovers, families and friends meet. Seize the day overlooking the scenic panorama, bite in a warm croissant just out of the oven, sink into the foam of a delicately scented bath, capture the soul of Paris from your winter garden. In the Heart of Paris, under the Pont-Neuf flows the Seine. In the heart of the City of Light, a few steps away from the Louvre and the Marais, in front of the Left Bank, rises Cheval Blanc Paris with majesty.

Facing the Rivoli street, La Samaritaine writes a new chapter in the history of the famous department store. A bold history, deeply rooted in modernity. A department store open on the neighborhood and the city, where fashion, lifestyle and gastronomy embody the famous Parisian casual chic. An effervescent address that reflects the spirit and magic of the capital. A must-see destination for travelers, an unmissable rendezvous for Parisians.

February is a short but sweet month celebrating Valentine's Day which is another good reason to plan a romantic getaway.

This month I am highlighting a few romantic destinations and properties within those destinations. With so many incredible places in this world it is hard to choose where to start but with a discovery phone call with me, I can help you pair the best options to suit your specific needs.

It is not hard to understand why Bora Bora is top of the list for so many couples. You truly have to be there to fully understand what everyone means with the color of the turquoise water. Depending on your vacationing style, this location is perfect for very active and adventurous guests with options like jet skiing, atv, hiking, SUP, snorkeling, diving... you name it! Since they are French islands, the food is top quality and if laying low is your style, there is no better backdrop to soak up the sun and beach.

Four Seasons Bora Bora is set on a private motu (island) in the string of coral islets surrounding the main island, and overlooking Mount Otemanu and Mount Pahia.

Inspired by its exquisite Polynesian setting, they serve exceptional South Pacific delicacies. Four restaurants and bars each take full advantage of the Resort's position on this romantic island, as well as Bora Bora's sunshine, stunning sunsets and starlit nights. Innovative menus prepared to extraordinarily high standards feature locally raised fruit, vegetables, spices and a rich diversity of freshly caught seafood.

Nestled at the lagoon edge, surrounded by tropical groves and the pristine Pacific waters, sits The Spa. With breathtaking ocean views, the haven of their kahaia tree-inspired spa captures the unique balance that defines Bora Bora – surging energy meeting inviting tranquility.

Venice, Italy

Venice, Italian Venezia, is an island city. Venice is unique environmentally, architecturally, and historically, and in its days as a republic the city was styled la serenissima (“the most serene” or “sublime”). It remains a major Italian port in the northern Adriatic Sea and is one of the world’s oldest tourist and cultural centers. Venice demonstrates a luminous spectacle of ornate marbled and frescoed palaces, bell towers, and domes reflected in the sparkling waters of the lagoon. They have been painted, photographed, and filmed to such an extent that it is difficult to distinguish the real city from its romantic representations. The visitor arriving is still transported into another world, one whose atmosphere and beauty remain incomparable.

Set in one of the city’s eight monumental palazzos on the Grand Canal, Aman Venice embodies all that is sumptuous and sensuous about La Serenissima. Rococo works of art are offset by the contemporary restraint of Jean-Michel Gathy interiors, while private gardens – rare in this floating city – are overlooked by opulent dining venues and spacious suites.
