South America is not left out when it comes to a rail experience.

Hiram Bingham, the luxury train to Machu Picchu. Named in honor of the explorer who rediscovered the Inca citadel, the train carries guests in unrivaled style between Cusco, the Sacred Valley and Machu Picchu. 1920s-style carriages featuring highly polished wood and brass décor. Gourmet dinner is served in the restaurant car, vibrant entertainment and awe-inspiring views throughout the observation car.

As the train meanders through the breathtaking Sacred Valley, guests celebrate the South American spirit with lively dancing and gourmet cuisine.

So many places to go and so many ways to get there! Why not consider the journey as part of the experience.

Trains are often overlooked and there are quite a few options worldwide. You may have a preference to train by day, hotel by night... no problem. Perhaps that gentle rocking sparks a romantic vision for a future adventure with your special someone :)

Let me touch on just a few fabulous, popular choices.

An aura of elegance abounds, so one can never be overdressed on the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express and they encourage their passengers to embrace the occasion!

Whether it's unwinding as Europe passes the window, or retreating after an evening in the bar car, even the most convivial traveller will require a quiet space to retire. Passengers can lay amid plush furnishings, fresh linens, and handcrafted furniture in our magnificently restored 1920s cabins.

Beautifully restored wagon-lit carriages boasting 40 Historic Cabins, 8 Suites and 6 Grand Suites. Three Restaurant Cars with authentic period décor, a Champagne Bar and the iconic Bar Car '3674'. Oh la la!

Scotland continues to be a popular destination and the Royal Scotsman is an excellent addition to your itinerary

Embark on a grand highland fling!

Royal Scotsman rekindles the romance of travel on Highland escapes for up to 40 passengers. Interiors marry Edwardian elegance with country-house comfort. Guests dine on succulent Scottish fare, admire breathtaking scenery from the Observation Car and unwind in the onboard spa. Two to seven night itineraries, departing from Edinburgh, feature private visits to castles and distilleries.

Riding Royal Scotsman is one of those pinch-me moments. Ten intricately designed carriages, including the sublime Bamford Spa, form a palace on wheels.

VIRTUOSO.

More experiences enjoyed by rail

Rocky Mountaineer offers luxury train journeys through Western Canada and the American Southwest. Their world-renowned train travels by daylight and is the best way to experience some of the most spectacular scenery North America has to offer.

One of Canada's biggest tourism draws, the Canadian Rockies are home to five pristine National Parks, which collectively comprise a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Completed in 1885, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the line which Rocky Mountaineer runs along, is a piece of Canadian history and an incredible engineering feat.

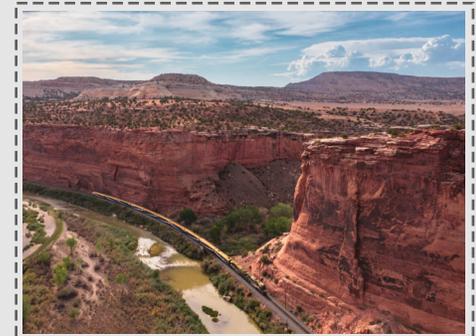

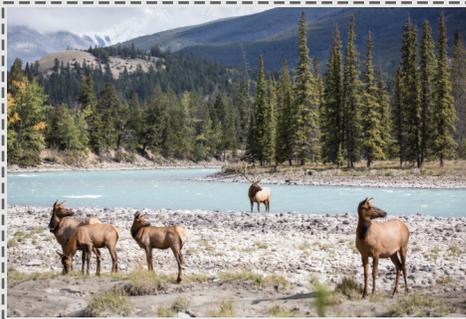

The trains only travel during daylight hours, with nights spent in the comfort of specially chosen hotels. The chef-created cuisine onboard Rocky Mountaineer is of the highest standard, inspired by fresh Western Canadian ingredients, and keeps even the most discerning palates happy.

Day 1: Moab to Glenwood Springs

If traveling west from Moab, Utah's Scarlet City, Rocky Mountaineer will begin the journey by Arches National Park, showcasing 73,234-acres of vibrant red desert and famous geological features.

Traveling alongside the Colorado River, some of the most extraordinary, colorful canyons will be seen with one aptly named Ruby Canyon, only accessible by train or from the river. Come the afternoon; the train will ascend through a spectacular 15-mile-long narrow canyon called De Beque Canyon towards its final destination of the day, Glenwood Springs.

Day 2: Glenwood Springs to Denver
Excitement brews for another rail day in the lap of luxury. Steeped in captivating canyons and pristine waterways, you will want cameras in hand to snap photos through iconic Byers Canyon and Gore Canyon, known for epic views and native wildlife.

With a slow descent through the historic Moffat Tunnel, built in 1928, the train will emerge from 6.3 miles of mountainous terrain onto the eastern side of the continental divide towards more lush Colorado scenery. With the final whistle blow in Denver, the two-day journey filled with history, sights, and camaraderie will come to a close.
